

NATIONAL SHELLFISH CULTURE SHOW 2022

Programming of conferences, round tables and workshops

Tuesday, October 4

- 9h30 Opening of the show
- 11h-12h Inaugural cocktail with tasting of oysters from the regions of France
- 12h30 - 13h15 7 pitches innovation
- 14h30 - 15h30 Netherlands Inaugural Conference, Guests of Honor (1)
- 16h - 17h30 Discussions on "Shellfish farming, a profession with a future" (2)
- 18h30 Closing of the show

Wednesday, October 5

- 9h30 Opening of the show
- 10h30 – 12h Workshop "Overview of FEAMPA 2021-2027 : role of actors, existing systems and eligible expense" (3)
- 12h30 - 13h15 7 pitches innovation
- 14h – 16h00 Discussions on "Shellfish workforce: a passionate profession to be (re)discovered" (4)
- 16h15 - 17h15 Discussions on "Upcoming season: stock, growth, health of the French sector" (5)
- 18h00 Closing of the show

Space for business meetings and jobdating available at the show

1 – Netherlands Inaugural Conference, Guests of Honor

The delegation of the Netherlands, made up of producers and academics, presents the specificities of local shellfish farming : types of shellfish produced, farming practices, local marketing and consumption patterns, governance, but also issues and challenges for the profession.

Speakers: The delegation of the Netherlands

Conference hosted by Haude-Marie THOMAS, magazine editor « Cultures Marines »

2- Discussions on "Shellfish farming, a profession with a future"

Discussion between the delegation from the Netherlands and professionals from different French regions on the environmental and food interests of the sector, but also encouraging innovations and experiments for the future of the profession concerning water quality and the fight against predation. The debate will also address the possibilities of developing the off-shore activity.

Speakers:

- The delegation of the Netherlands, guests of Honor
- Philippe LE GAL, President of the Regional Shellfish Farming Committee of South Brittany and of the National Shellfish Farming Committee
- Rémi HENRY, Quiberon Bay oyster farmer (56)
- Sylvain CORNEE, mussel farmer in the bay of Mont St Michel (35) and president of the Regional Shellfish Farming Committee of North Brittany
- Fabrice VIGIER, oyster farmer at the port of Larros in Gujan-Mestras (33) and board member of the Regional Shellfish Farming Committee of Arcachon-Aquitaine
- A representative of the Regional Shellfish Farming Committee of Charente-Maritime
- A representative of the Regional Shellfish Farming Committee of Pays de Loire

Discussions hosted by Haude-Marie THOMAS, magazine editor « Cultures Marines »

3 - Workshop "Overview of European Maritime, Fisheries and Aquaculture Fund 2021-2027 : role of actors, existing systems and eligible expense"

EMFF review, presentation of the new EMFAF system, role of the regions, presentation of the various regional systems (sector measures, CLLD, innovation), eligible expenses, aid rates and timetable... all the information to submit a complete and eligible file.

Speakers:

- Soizic SCHWARTZ, project officer at the aquaculture office of the DGAMPA
- Cyril ROUAULT, aquaculture project manager for the Brittany region
- Mikaël TUMA, project manager at SMIDAP
- A representative of CER France Brocéliande
- A representative of the National Shellfish Farming Committee

Workshop hosted by Olivier DENOUAL, of the Brittany-Atlantic Sea Center

4 - Discussions on "Shellfish workforce : a passionate profession to be (re)discovered"

The shellfish sector is struggling to recruit in a sustainable way. However, this profession of passion has everything to seduce : working environment, noble food products, environment-friendly profession... How to overcome recruitment difficulties? Communication on the specificities of shellfish farming professions, employee training and accessibility to housing are all avenues and testimonials that the speakers will discuss together during the discussion.

Speakers:

- Hervé TOURNEUX, "placement" adviser and training referent at Pôle Emploi
- Stéphane PREVOST, business advisor at Pôle Emploi
- Stéphane TUAL, CEO of the NEO 56 group

- Emilie LARMET, project manager at the "Cap Avenir" association
- François LE COTILLEC, mayor of the commune of Saint-Philibert
- Laurence QUERRIEN, oyster farmer in Cancale (35) and vice-president of the Regional Shellfish Farming Committee of Bretagne-Nord
- Fabrice GRILLON-GABORIT, "Sector contract" project manager at the Regional Shellfish Farming Committee of Méditerranée
- Thierry HELIE, oyster farmer in St-Vaast-La-Hougue (50) and president of the Regional Shellfish Farming Committee of Normandie-Mer du Nord
- Bruno AMOSSE, oyster farmer from the Auray river (56) and "employment" referent at the CRC Bretagne-Sud
- Amélie THAERON, shellfish farmer from Riec-sur-Belon (29)
- A representative of the Regional Shellfish Farming Committee of Charente-Maritime
- A representative of the Regional Shellfish Farming Committee of Pays de Loire

Discussions hosted by Haude-Marie THOMAS, magazine editor « Cultures Marines »

5 - Discussions on "Upcoming season : stock, growth, health of the French sector"

Exchanges between producers from different French regions on stocks and growth of shellfish. Overview of the regions to meet the challenges of the next season.

Speakers:

- Henri CHAUMARD, oyster farmer in the bay of Paimpol (22) and vice-president "oysters" of the Regional Shellfish Farming Committee of Bretagne-Nord
- Jean-François TAUGE, oyster farmer in the bay of Quiberon (56) and member of the sector commission of the Shellfish Federation
- Sébastien LEMOINE, oyster farmer in the bay of Plouharnel (56) and member of the sector commission of the Shellfish Federation
- A representative of the Regional Shellfish Farming Committee of Charente-Maritime

Discussions hosted by Haude-Marie THOMAS, magazine editor « Cultures Marines »